Happy Vacation Memories Start Here

Celebrating 25 Years!

Since the Summer of 1992 Sweethaven Resort is where beach excursions begin, snowball fights breakout and hayrides happen. We've hosted hundreds of family reunions, weddings and corporate retreats. We've welcomed young lovers and watched them return as partners and then parents. We delight in noticing how much the little ones have grown year after year. We have become a home-away-from-home for people with pets. We've celebrated countless birthdays, anniversaries, holidays, retirements, commencements and engagements. But, it's the quiet moments, a picnic in the treehouse, a walk to the beach, making s'mores under a starry sky that make the happiest memories.

It's amazing how quickly 25 years has flown by. This year treat yourself and your loved ones to some happy memories at Sweethaven Resort.

Lei Song (far right) ~ and staff at Song Asian Cuisine

Lei and Ruifeng Song Malecki invite you to visit their Song Asian Cuisine Restaurant in New Buffalo. Song is your Asian cuisine connection in Harbor Country. The restaurant is made up of a family of experts using the finest ingredients in authentic Asian dishes. They serve lunch and dinner seven days a week.

They chose Harbor Country to locate their business because they wanted to make sure that the local community and tourists could enjoy high-quality Chinese and Japanese food. Their family has been in the restaurant business for 25 years and wanted to continue the tradition.

They feel that the quality and selection of Asian foods, appreciation of their customers and the community, and the warm and friendly atmosphere sets them apart from other similar businesses. Song has an extensive menu: soups, salads, appetizers, sushi bar appetizers and entrees, sushi/sashimi, teriyaki, tempura, bento boxes, hand rolls, chef specials, Chinese entrees, fried rice and noodles, desserts and more. They even have combo meals in case you want to sample a few things. Song caters, delivers and offers carry-out. They also have a separate dining area for groups.

What do they enjoy the most about running their business? "Satisfying our customers," was their response. They envision adding new services and selections to their menu in the future while continuing to serve lunch and dinner and running special events, as they did with the Chinese New Year. EVERYTHING

The Sawyer Home and Garden Center has been a family owned and operated business for over 30 years. Barry and Linda Patejdl want to offer their customers the "total shopping experience". They feel it is the ultimate, one stop shop where they continue to offer everything for every season on a daily basis year round.

Barry grew up in Harbor Country and feels that nothing can beat your hometown. They feel that the community is wonderful and is a beautiful place to live. Being raised in a family of entrepreneurs, Barry, with his wife Linda, decided that they wanted to build something great for his family and the community.

They enjoy making the Sawyer Home and Garden Center a destination spot. "We strive to be hospitable to our customers and create a memorable shopping experience," they commented. They love getting new products and services that their customers get excited about, and offering quality products at competitive prices.

What to expect when you visit their establishment? Look forward to spending some time browsing all the nook and crannies of the center and the outdoor nurseries in season. There is fresh produce, cheeses, specialty and gourmet items and so much more in the food section. Usually there are tasting stations with savory products paired with different crackers or breads for you to sample. They have a kitchen and dishes section next to the beer, wine and liquor department. The store flows out into gift and home décor, beauty and body care products, candles and scents, clothing, bird feeding, outdoor living and everything gardening. The center is always decorated for the season and you can constantly find something blooming or fresh green in the winter to help you see the spring. Then the place explodes with the outdoor nurseries. They offer services that can help you plan your landscape or do it for you. Their staff is knowledgeable and helpful and if what you ask is not their specialty, they will find you someone who is. See ad on page 115.

INNOVATIVE

Katie Maroney, originally from New Buffalo, fulfilled a lifelong goal to open a fitness facility in her hometown, when she created Equilibrium Fitness. This center is a 24 hour facility for men and women 18 years and older, complete with personal training, year round spin classes, boot camp classes in the summers, state of the art machinery and equipment along with a safe, clean, positive environment.

She got into the business because she has been involved in athletics her entire life and really enjoys helping others. She played Division I hockey at Ohio State and completed her Masters in Exercise Science and became a certified personal trainer in 2010. Recently she has participated in the tryouts for the National Women's Hockey League (NWHL) and is a free agent aspiring to go pro. She has been in various gyms her entire life and wanted to offer something completely different. Equilibrium Fitness is unlike any other, because it has 24 hour access, customizable membership options for residents and visitors, nice amenities, personal training and offers classes year round. It is truly one of a kind in Harbor Country.

Katie Maroney ~ Equilibrium Fitness

In this business Katie enjoys most getting to know all of her members. It also gives her the opportunity to coach and play hockey. "It is extremely rewarding to be able to offer such a great facility to our community and visitors," she commented. She is very thankful to all of her members, clients, family, friends and associates that have helped her establish her business. "Through your faith, patience and support we have been able to establish an amazing facility and ever growing fitness family here in New Buffalo I look forward to continuing to serve our great community in all of its fitness needs," she added.

Looking forward to the future Katie is in the process of looking to expand her facility in New Buffalo in size with more equipment, different classes and some other amenities. In the immediate future she will be offering more online consultations, personal training programs and nutritional counseling.

EXCEPTIONAL

Pete Bernal, Proprietor ~ Horizons Vacation Rentals

Horizons Vacation Rentals offers the rental of quality homes, each unique in their own way. Proprietor Pete Bernal feels that his eye for quality and detail sets his rentals apart from others.

He chose Harbor Country when he was vacationing in New Buffalo. He liked the area so well, that he decided to relocate his residency. Shortly after moving here, he decided to start a business. For decades he had been involved in long term rentals, and recently realized that New Buffalo was in need of other options for short term rentals.

For Pete, the positive response to his rental homes and customer service gives him the most satisfaction. He is constantly looking to improve his current rental units. The accommodations for Merchant House I and Merchant House II are great for family and friends. You can combine the two homes and have an all-inclusive, convenient place for corporate getaways, wedding celebrations, and reunions. Pete invites you to "Come visit Harbor Country and enjoy everlasting memories." See ad on page 52.

CRAFTSMANSHIP

Lorraine and Terry Hanover ~ Center of the World Woodshop

Handmade craftsmanship still thrives right here in Harbor Country. Center of the World Woodshop Showroom offers a rich collection of locally made furniture and home accessories, along with a custom design service for furniture and cabinetry.

This year, owners Terry and Lorraine Hanover celebrate forty years in business – years in which Terry has built a solid reputation for designing and creating heirloom quality furniture in the Craftsman tradition.

"I love sketching a solution to a need a client is expressing, and hearing them say, 'That's exactly what I want!'" said Terry.

When he creates a piece of furniture, it's a hands-on affair, from details such as hand-cut dovetails, leaded glass, inlays, tiles and hand carving, to hardwoods selected to showcase their natural beauty. "Wood has a warmth and beauty that can't be equaled, he explained. "My job is simply to enhance the natural beauty it already possesses."

In their Harbert showroom, Lorraine displays Terry's work along with pieces created by more than a hundred other artisans. "I'm proud of our collection" she said. "We represent some incredibly creative people."

The Hanovers are also dedicated to the environment and their community. Furniture made to last for generations, from sustainably harvested trees, minimizes their impact on the environment. An annual tree-giveaway replaces all those used by their shop. And every year, they organize and sponsor fundraising events to support the New Troy Community Center.

Customers often wonder about the origins of their name. Terry's shop is located in New Troy, which has been known as the "Center of the World" since 1860. A sixth-generation resident of the town, he is fond of quoting the man who first coined the name for a general store: "If you can't find it at the Center of the World, seek no farther;" and, "Wherever you are is the Center of the World."

TRUSTWORTHY

Tom Hemingway has been a realtor in Harbor Country for over a decade. As Tom Hemingway/Remax Harbor Country he specializes in lakefront and cottage properties stretching from New Buffalo to Saugatuck, Michigan. Along with his other business, Bluefish Vacation Rentals, he has developed a vast knowledge of income producing vacation homes.

Tom was originally from Michigan, but lived in Chicago for many years. He bought his first cottage in Union Pier in 1997 and fell in love with Michigan all over again. He moved here full time in 1998 when he purchased an older resort with his partner and turned it into the Firefly Resort in Union Pier. How did he get into real estate? Tom said that he had a design business in Chicago and always had an interest in real estate. Once they sold the Firefly Resort, the natural step was into real estate. Tom felt that he was lucky to find Remax Harbor Country with Dan Coffey as the Broker.

Since his other business is Vacation Rentals, Tom feels his knowledge of the second home market helps him find the right properties for his clients. He is also a developer, so his understanding of construction helps his buyers and sellers know how they can change an existing home to improve its value. He enjoys his freedom to make all of his own choices. "There is a lot of creativity involved in molding a business. It's exciting," he commented. Tom plans to continue to stay involved in the community and hopes to build another development in the future.

SPECTACULAR

ship aground on the Lake Michigan coastline near what is now New Buffalo in 1834 and fell in love with the landscape. The region's natural beauty, that so captivated Captain Whittaker, can be enjoyed at Whittaker Woods.

Fabulous golf is only part of the draw at Whittaker Woods. The stunning clubhouse, with its woodwork and stonework one might expect from its origins as a 1920's farmhouse, has an amazing and eclectic assortment of memorabilia and sculpture displayed inside and out. Golfers and visitors alike may enjoy a full bar and a terrific dining atmosphere with delicious fare and friendly hospitality. A separate and beautiful banquet facility, Fairway Hall, can accommodate groups up to 300.

Whittaker Woods is a "must play" in your Harbor Country golf adventure.

This championship course plays to 7,072 yards from the tips and was designed by the late Ken Killian, the legendary architect behind Kemper Lakes. Like many elite tracks of the modern era, Whittaker Woods, with a slope rating of 144 from the back tees, is formidable enough to challenge the most competitive golfers, yet features multiple tee placements allowing golfers of all abilities to partake and have fun. The course plays under 5,000 yards from the front tees and has been cited by Michigan Golf as offering "great, playable golf for everyone."

The course was named after Captain Wessel Whittaker, one of the region's original settlers. Captain Whittaker ran his

EXCITEMENT

John Natsis, with his partner Tom Hemingway, have been providing outstanding vacation homes for their customers for over a decade through their service Bluefish Vacation Rentals. They have a wide selection of homes to meet every vacation need and budget from one bedroom charming cottages to exceptional two to five bedroom properties. Some of their listings are on Lake Michigan or have lake views, and most are in within a short walk to the lake, beach or town. They have a tag line that says "You'll have more FUN at our house."

John and Tom spent weekends camping at Warren Dunes State Park and visiting friends here in the mid 90s. They eventually bought a fixer-upper in Union Pier. They loved being here so much as it was a nice respite from their Chicago life, they eventually bought a mini resort; sold their home in Chicago's "Bucktown"; and eventually settled in this magical place year round.

John had extensive hospitality experience with both the Sheraton and Hilton hotels in Chicago. He and Tom opened up a resort and then started the vacation rental business. John felt that everything happened organically from there. "Tom has always been very interested in real estate, and is very customer focused, so it is not a surprise to anyone who knows him that the vacation rental business and his real estate career would be a success," John commented.

John stated that they did not start off with this idea as their "master plan", but the fact that they see this business from a 360 degree perspective is great for everyone. Not only do they rent fabulous vacation homes, but they sell them too. Their renters sometimes turn into buyers; their buyers sometimes decide to have them rent their homes; and on occasion if they go to sell, they consider them since they really know the home inside and out – hence the 360 degrees reference.

John said that their business is multi-faceted. On any given day it is different than it was the day before, and that is exciting. A huge factor is that they get to provide thousands of their customers with a wonderful vacation experience. He feels that they have found their "sweet spot" managing an inventory of around 50 to 55 homes, which is a perfect place to be. They have determined over the past decade that this is a good number to be able to fill the rental homes for their owners, manage and take care of the properties so that their renters have the best experience they can have, plus just a little free time for themselves.

"Just to say that we realize living in a place like Harbor Country is a privilege for us. It is not always easy to be able to make it work in a town that is very tourism driven, but over the past decade we see that changing. New businesses who work hard can really make it work here. We are becoming more of a year-round destination, and that is good for everyone," John added. See ad on page 52 & 53.

Clubhouse and Wobble ~ Deer Creek Hunt Club

Tom and Tammy are the proprietors of the Deer Creek Hunt Club, a sportsman's paradise. It is a world class sporting clay and hunting facility nestled on 500 acres of beautiful ravine woodlands, streams, rolling hills and contoured cover fields.

Deer Creek can accommodate a variety of shooter/hunters ranging from novice, average and even expert. Begin your day with a private shooting lesson from one of their certified range safety officers, followed by testing your new skills on one of their fully automated sporting clay courses or in the hunting fields.

Don't forget to check out their beautiful clubhouse with many amenities perfect for corporate events. Deer Creek also has its very own pro shop great for purchasing ammo, Deer Creek merchandise, gun rentals, and much more. Other shooting amenities include wobble, five-stand, skeet and two sporting clay courses.

They chose Harbor Country for their club because of its unique character and ideal location. "What we enjoy most is the relationship we develop with the customers. First-time shooters at Deer Creek always come back for more. It's like one big happy family!" they commented.

Looking towards the future, they plan to maintain their beautiful clubhouse and facility and keep the shooters coming back for more. Their biggest dream would be to expand their shooting facility with a handgun or rifle range.

RECLAIMED

For over 25 years Hearthwoods Custom Furnishings has been creating extraordinary furniture, architectural accents and structures using reclaimed and repurposed wood. Their furniture is built with design and quality always in the forefront.

Andy and Mary Brown chose Harbor Country because they love Lake Michigan, the beautiful countryside and the many artists and entrepreneurs who have settled here. Andy's love of nature started him on the path of building furniture from discarded trees and reclaimed wood.

What began in a small building in downtown New Buffalo has grown today into two showrooms in Lakeside and a manufacturing facility in Three Oaks. His style and the store itself have developed and evolved to include leading edge designs and a collection of home accessories that compliment the furniture. They look to continue on this course of growth in the future.

They enjoy the creative process of their business and staying on the leading edge of home design. Andy takes pleasure in working with his customers to create beautiful pieces for their homes. They feel that what makes them different from other similar businesses are their designs and the unique mix of accessories that they have to compliment their furniture and architectural accents.

HOSPITALITY

Bill and Joyce Jann pride themselves in the hospitality at their establishment, The Inn at Union Pier. It is a sixteen room bed and breakfast inn located in a quiet residential setting just a short three minute walk to a beautiful Lake Michigan beach. Originally the structure was a casual resort, but it has developed into a very delightful Inn with an elegant living area downstairs, a cozy dining room, and guest rooms with various amenities.

They have been bed and breakfast owners/operators for over 25 years. Bill and Joyce got started when their children were young and they desired to have a family business where they could raise their kids in a country setting so they left their careers in the city and began their life as the proprietors of an Inn.

They chose the Harbor Country area because of its natural attractions such as the lake, woods for hiking, sand dunes and the variety of other fine businesses in Harbor Country, including quaint shops, art galleries, wineries, antiques, and restaurants. It was also in close proximity to Chicago if any of their guests wanted a taste of the city. They work very hard at offering hospitality and relaxation to their guests and try to treat them like visiting family. Bill and Joyce feel that they have a wonderful staff that extends these attitudes every day to their guests.

The Inn at Union Pier has also enjoyed good success with corporate retreats and small intimate meetings. They will continue to grow the business in that direction, along with their special winter getaways.

EXCITING

*Chad Gradowski
~ Coldwell Banker*

Chad Gradowski is a Coldwell Banker Realtor licensed in Michigan and Indiana who has 15 years of experience selling lakefront homes, country estates and Harbor Country homes and condos. He is recognized as one of the top 100 realtors in the Chicagoland area by Coldwell Banker NRT.

Chad grew up in Harbor Country and has spent most of his life enjoying the beaches, boating, riding horses and taking advantage of the great lifestyle that's possible here. "These are wonderful communities with so much to offer, and now that my wife and I are raising three daughters, there is no place I'd rather live. We have excellent schools, a wide variety of things to do in all seasons, and there is so much potential still to develop in our area," he commented. Chad pointed out that we are also just an hour away from Chicago, a great, international city, which is extraordinary. He feels that Harbor Country has been very good to him and his family, and he can't imagine being anywhere else.

He received his real estate license in his late 20's when he and his wife were rehabbing and flipping homes in the area. In the first three years of their marriage they flipped three homes. "I enjoy the challenge of finding just the right house for buyers and helping sellers succeed in their goals too," Chad added.

He has been ranked number one in sales in Southwest Michigan for the past five years. "What sets me apart is my focused knowledge of this market. I know how to price and market homes to sell, and I work hard to find the right fit for each individual buyer as well," Chad explained. What has been most exciting about real estate for him is that it has given him the opportunity to meet interesting people, and many of his clients have become friends as well. He enjoys the hunt for the perfect match for his clients.

Chad explained his plans for the future: "I want to be the Walt Disney of Harbor Country – I want to give every client a memorable, exciting and personalized experience that will leave them with a smile, and they will want to tell everyone they know. I feel like I'm not just selling real estate, I'm selling a lifestyle."

ATELIER

Jason Whalen ~ Mix & Mingle

Mix & Mingle is a home furnishings retail shop with interior design services. Jason Whalen, proprietor and designer, has a Bachelors of Fine Art from Michigan State University. The shop opened in 2006 with the concept to highlight contemporary and vintage furnishings for a signature look.

Browsing through the shop you get a feel for the varied pallet he is working with. Antique and modern are side by side. Natural and synthetic materials blend together and there is a definite feel of exotic cultures. There are unique chandeliers, vases and light fixtures to open your mind to the possibilities.

Jason loves what he does and enjoys blending clean lines, sophisticated color palettes and a dramatic sense of scale, texture and form. "Interior design excites me, in that there are so many elements to consider. The full service shop allows me to focus on the big picture, pulling it all together and providing complete design service and décor options," he expounded.

He enjoys being hands-on with all of his projects and working closely with his clients. He listens to their wants and needs, visits the space and works around existing pieces and their budget. It is important to him to know how they live in their space. Are there children, pets, or do they entertain a lot? What is their style? Are they traditional, contemporary or eclectic? He goes over the blueprints, does furniture layouts and helps them with the selection of fabrics, rugs and accessories.

"Most homeowners get overwhelmed and sometimes make poor choices that often result in costly decisions. Since building and furnishing your home is a major investment, why not make it ideal? Too often people select pieces that do not compliment the space nor function in the layout. Your home should be comfortable with a harmonious balance between furniture and accessories yet reflect the homeowner's lifestyle," he explained.

TOGETHER

In 1952, Sawyer Highlands began with a vision to love God and people. It has been a place where people live life together, learn about God through the Bible, and experience the power and joy of a growing understanding of who Jesus is through God's Spirit. The church had small beginnings and modest growth over the years. In 2012 Sawyer grew enough to start a second service down the road in New Buffalo High School. Through the generosity of many, the church purchased and remodeled a nontraditional church building, an old, iconic car dealership on West Buffalo Street in New Buffalo, for worship. On the anniversary of the start of Sawyer Highlands, Converge Community Church held its first public service in June of 2015.

At Sawyer/Converge Jeff Dryden serves as the Senior Pastor, along with Rob Nash and Mike Bettig as Associate Pastors, and Eric Deaton as the Youth Director. The church is more than just those on staff, more than a building, the church is the gathered community of faith doing life together. Converge and Sawyer have a mix of people who have grown up in the church and people who are new to the church, people who live here all year and people on vacation for the week. It is a place where paths converge: families and individuals, young and old, friends and visitors.

During the year the church has a lot going on to explore. Students of all ages connect through the youth program, mission trips and retreats. Adults can meet weekly, and men's and women's ministries hold seasonal activities for encouragement and growth. The church extends a welcome to any who would want to visit. Join them for Sunday service at 10 a.m. at Sawyer Highlands or at Converge Community Church at 11 a.m.

HOMEMADE

Colleen Froehlich
~ Froehlich's

Colleen Froehlich of Froehlich's is all about homegrown-homemade. Her business is currently undergoing a transformation that will be unveiled this spring. Her current location will be a coffee shop with a full line bakery including pastries, cakes and doughnuts. Across the street, in the old Three Oaks Pharmacy building, will be a full process kitchen with a sit down dining and carry-out menu. Of course, she will still be offering her full line of preserves and pickles and catering services.

Colleen grew up in a Mom and Pop grocery business in St. Joseph, Michigan that taught her the bounty and beauty of the area's produce production. She got the retail food bug at an early age working side by side with her Grandpa and Dad and tried to get rid of it, but just couldn't shake it off. Froehlich's is close to where she grew up, but with more of a "small town" feel than St. Joseph.

She feels that she is different from other similar businesses because all of her products are made in the store's kitchen from scratch. Many of their products come from their own family farms and those of local growers. Colleen is all about making food that people enjoy. "This year my dream came true to be able to expand and do more of what I love – food and service – year round!" she commented.

LIVELY

Casey's New Buffalo Restaurant & Bar has been around for over 50 years. Proprietors Phillip Marshallsay and Declan Stapleton have launched a new menu for 2016 and invested in new facilities, training and technology all designed to serve their customers a consistently great product in a timely fashion; and to have them all leave having had a totally enjoyable experience.

Casey's offers casual family dining that includes hand-cut steaks and chops, Italian dishes, fresh seafood and daily specials, as well as lighter fare like dinner salads, great burgers and sandwiches. They serve a wide variety of draft beers, 28 including micro-brews, cocktails and have an extensive wine list. They also have a large outdoor patio called "Casey's Backyard" and a new outdoor bar, "Casey's Ice House," where the fun never stops.

They chose Harbor Country because it is not just a seasonal destination, but it also is a great year-round spot that has a vibrant economy. They love food and great craft beers. They also enjoy the personal interaction with guests. "Our customers are out to have fun and enjoy themselves and we're here to help ensure that happens!" they commented. It's the interaction with their guests and constantly making new friends that gives them the most satisfaction.

They feel they have a great location just a short walk from the beach. They offer fantastic outdoor dining and an entertainment patio. Their bar is a traditional Chicago style Art Deco bar with a great atmosphere. The food is fresh and reasonably priced. It has a lively atmosphere with entertainment offered twice weekly; and they are very family friendly with a special kids menu, including healthy options.

PRETTY

Abigail Heche creates and curates jewelry, clothing and quilts as art. Pieces are both ornamental and practical. Her love of natural beauty and appreciation for clean lines of contemporary design bring a fresh, simple perspective to the business of wearable art.

Abigail discovered the beauty of Harbor Country 15 years ago on a day trip from Chicago. She immediately felt at home here. Weekends turned into summers, and eventually she made Harbor Country her permanent home. She has had a business here for the last 14 years.

She got into business when an injury interrupted her profession as a massage therapist. Abigail came from a creative family so she’s been making some form of art her entire life. She needed to make a living so she started stringing beads together and peddling her wares at trunk shows in Chicago. What started as a job soon became a profession and then a passion. Having her own shop allows her to create as “The Spirit” moves her. Her clothing line started as a simple desire to fulfill the needs of her jewelry clients. “They just wanted a pretty linen dress. So I made one!” she explained.

What does Abigail think sets her business apart from similar businesses? “I personally oversee the production of every piece. Each piece is meticulously handcrafted from the highest quality materials (precious gems and fine fabrics) by local seamstresses and goldsmiths that I’ve worked with for many years. My mother, and business partner, handles all the production of our quilts. AH jewelry ranges from elemental stones, framed simply in gold to ornamental objects with sparkling diamonds and lustrous pearls to uniquely imagined experimental pieces. Each AH piece is carefully designed for beauty, balance and wearability. All items are crafted with meticulous attention to detail. Each piece is made to be enjoyed today and treasured always,” she illustrated.

The relationships she’s created are the best part about her business. Clients have become friends and her extended family. Being a seasonal business allows her the freedom to travel and treasure hunt in the off-season. She always finds something interesting and new from far-off places to share and incorporated into her pieces. “It keeps the shop fresh and my customers know there will always be something new to look forward to,” she pointed out.

As to the future, supply and demand is her ongoing business plan. “As long as there’s a demand with delight I’m happy to serve my community and add beauty through the wearable arts,” she relayed. See ad on page 71.

INCREDIBLE

Raymond Akers and Dawn Workman
~ Villa Nova Pizzeria

Dawn Workman of Villa Nova Pizzeria in New Buffalo is very excited this year. "Harbor Country now has award winning pizza!" she exclaimed. Villa Nova was recently rated best of category in Tavern Style Pizza out of 76 pizzerias in Chicago by Channel 7's Hungry Hound. Tavern Style Pizza is the original Chicago pizza recipe, which is square cut with delicious sausage.

Villa Nova is a beachy-feel café in downtown New Buffalo. It also offers pasta dinners, sandwiches, homemade soup and salads. There is an extensive beer and wine list as well as a full service bar. Catering is available for all of your events.

Their business is the first franchise of the original Villa Nova which was established sixty years ago in Stickney, Illinois. They chose Harbor Country because they thought there was a need for good Chicago style pizza here. They pride themselves in using fresh ingredients, a delicious crust and amazing sausage on their pizza. And they are proud of the many happy customers that keep coming back after their opening eight years ago.

In the future they will be adding new menu items and expanding their catering menu. They are thankful to their customers and hope to continue serving them great pizzas in the coming years.

RIP CURRENTS

are powerful, channeled currents of water flowing away from shore. They typically extend from the shoreline, through the surf zone, and past the line of breaking waves. Rip currents can occur at any beach with breaking waves, including the Great Lakes. As waves travel from deep to shallow water, they will break near the shoreline. When waves break strongly in some locations and weakly in others, this can cause circulation cells which are seen as rip currents: narrow, fast-moving belts of water traveling offshore. Safety tips for Rip Currents are provided at all Harbor Country beaches. It cannot be stressed enough that even experienced swimmers can be caught in rip currents.

SAFETY:

Chikaming and New Buffalo Townships have initiated a safety location system for the Lake Michigan shoreline. There are blue fiberglass markers installed approximately every one tenth of a mile along the shoreline. Blue beach markers start at the 7.8 mile mark and extend to the 14.7 mile mark. These markers are coordinated to the Berrien County 911 system for faster emergency response in the event of a mishap. You can also access the local emergency center on your cell phone by dialing 269-756-1111.

The Story of Harbor Country

By the Late Ron Miller. Re-written by Marisue Hojnacki

New Buffalo

Wessel Whittaker was having a miserable day. Bound for Chicago out of Buffalo, NY, Wessel and his crew, aboard the schooner Post Boy, thought the end might be near the current village of Grand Beach. The New Yorkers, en route to St. Joseph to report the loss of their ship, came upon a harbor which Whittaker was certain could rival the port of Chicago.

Downtown New Buffalo, looking toward Lake Michigan, mid 1940s.

near. A savage November storm in 1834 grabbed control of their vessel and hurtled it onto the Lake Michigan shore. Aground and breaking up, the Post Boy was lost; but Wessel and his crew managed to struggle ashore

Captain Whittaker determined that he would return to the scene of his calamity and found his "New" Buffalo.

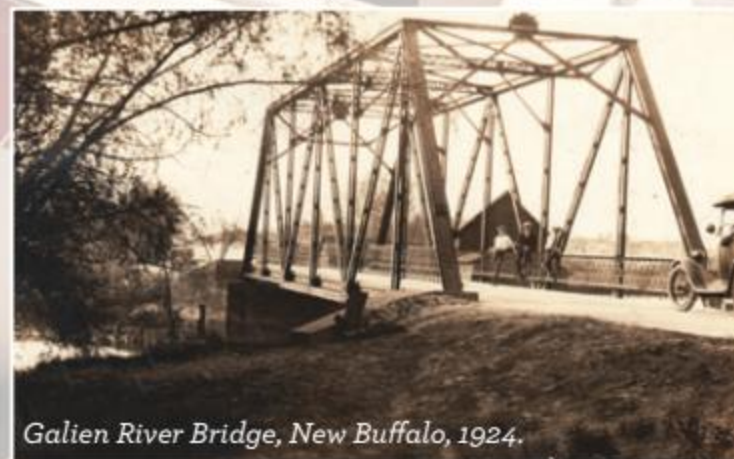

Our courageous Captain of course, wasn't the first visitor to

New Buffalo. The Miami, Iroquois and Potawatomi Tribes all fought for control of the area. The Native Americans, the game and fish they cherished, also attracted French traders and missionaries; but it was our Captain who first made New Buffalo into a permanent community. Whittaker, along with friends and relatives, returned in 1835 and began to develop and promote their dream. Sawmills were constructed and log buildings for every purpose arose. More settlers arrived from New York and the South with not dreams, but real hope and expectations, of riches to be harvested here. Soon these pioneers learned the value of tourists.

Land travelers between Detroit and Chicago spent their tourist dollars as they meandered through New Buffalo. In the late 1840s, the Michigan Central Railroad Company completed the stretch of tracks between Niles and New Buffalo, making New Buffalo the end of the railroad line for travelers between Detroit and Chicago. An unprecedented scale of tourism quickly reshaped the town's character, hotels, restaurants and numerous saloons selling whiskey at five cents a pint opened for business.

Although the railroad continued to contribute to the local economy, it was not until the 1900s and the age of the automobile that New Buffalo truly established its link to tourism. In 1934 the State recognized New Buffalo as "The Galien River Bridge, New Buffalo, 1924.

Grand Beach, early 1920.

Gateway to Michigan” and built a tourist information center here. The current Welcome Center on I-94 is the busiest in Michigan.

The dredging of New Buffalo’s harbor began in the 1960s. By 1975, New Buffalo’s safe harbor had become a reality and the new Whittaker Street bridge was dedicated. Not quite a port to equal Chicago’s, Wessel’s harbor was finally complete.

Michiana/ Grand Beach

Unlike nearby Harbor Country communities, Michiana and Grand Beach were founded solely as resorts. The Long Beach Development Company began subdividing and building Michiana in the 1920s. A famous Michiana landmark was a Signal Oak at the corner of Michiana and Powhattan Drives. Early surveyors marked the tree’s trunk to signal the Indiana-Michigan state line. The area that is now Michiana (Michigan side) and Michiana Shores (Indiana side) was originally called Michigan Shores.

Stately white gates have welcomed visitors to Grand Beach since the early 1900s. The community’s golf course dates from 1911 and was a huge attraction for Chicagoans who arrived three times a day on the Michigan Central Railroad. Frank Lloyd Wright built homes in Grand Beach, but the village’s most famous architectural offering was the 175-room Golfmore Hotel. Opened in 1921, the Golfmore offered concerts, movies and a huge, at least for the Midwest, ski jump located on a dune behind the hotel. The Golfmore was destroyed in 1939 by a spectacular fire.

The Grand Beach Inn was once The Pinewood Lodge and served as the training camp for James Braddock as he prepared for his prize fight with Joe Louis. Perhaps the most famous residents of Grand Beach, are author Father Andrew Greeley and the Mayors Daley of Chicago, who have maintained summer homes in the village for decades.

Union Pier

Union Pier was founded on an ethic of hard work without visions of a port to rival Chicago in contrast to Wessel Whittaker’s notion in New Buffalo. There was nature’s bounty to be harvested here. Tree trunks measured five feet and more in diameter. Trees rose 60 feet to the lowest branches. Squirrels, we are assured, ran through the community without ever touching the ground. There clearly was no Sears Tower to be seen on the horizon across the Lake, but everyone in what is now Union Pier understood that timber was the fuel which would fire the growth of Chicago. Boards could be big business, and so, a group of men built a “Pier in Union” at the foot of Berrien St. It was constructed as a 600-foot edifice jutting into Lake Michigan. A 130-ton schooner was built on the adjacent beach, tracks were laid to Three Oaks and mule-driven cars brought in lumber from sawmills along the route.

Soon there were brick and tool handle factories sending their wares to Chicago and beyond. The Chicago Fire of 1871 only increased the demand for Union Pier’s natural bounty, but while

Mayor Anton Cermak, ultimately the victim of an assassin’s bullet, brought guests to his summer home by yacht. John Dillinger even stopped for gas at the Prusa Resort service station, which is Downtown Union Pier, early 1930s.

Chicago was rebuilt, Union Pier’s pier washed away and a new economy had to be established.

In the 1900s, tourism replaced timber, bricks and fishing as Union Pier’s major industry. Union Pier became the United Nations of tourism. Eastern Europeans, African Americans and Jewish vacationers all established homes and resorts in the community. Olympian Jesse Owens had a home here. Chicago

Lakeside

Soon after Wessel Whittaker founded New Buffalo, newly arriving pioneers must have thought the village was a bit congested. Perhaps they simply wanted less expensive land. Whatever the reason, the area’s expansion moved north across the Union Pier, early 1940s.

Galien River to what is now Lakeside.

As with the other towns developing at the time, one of the first orders of business was to establish a sawmill, but it wasn't until the 1850s and the arrival of the Wilkinson family that real progress began. The Wilkinsons bought 2,500 acres of land along the lake shore. They focused their energies on the area that is now the intersection of Lakeshore Road and Pier Street. A trading post, boarding house and assorted other enterprises also opened, but the jewel of the village, naturally called Wilkinson, was a 600-foot-long pier. The Wilkinson family's schooner, Enterprise, took lumber and bricks to Chicago and returned with supplies for the now-thriving trading post. Wilkinson was renamed Lakeside in 1874.

In the late 1800s, with a train now servicing the community, Lakeside's tourist industry began to flourish. The early visitors were often administrators and faculty members from the University of Chicago. In 1913 the Chikaming Country Club was established in Wilkinson's lakefront resort known as Pine Bluff Resort and in 1914 the Golf Club was founded. The two closely knit (but separate) entities were united in 1928. A replica of Shakespeare's birthplace from the International Stock Show was dismantled in Chicago and transported to Lakeside where it became the Country Club's Shakespeare House.

As Lakeside was developing, and the current Red Arrow Highway was constructed, the original Wilkinson Trading Post moved from its lake location to its current home on Red Arrow where it was eventually restored as Wilkinson Village and now houses an interesting museum tracing the history of Lakeside.

The Lakeside Inn is probably the village's most historic romantic site, movie stars were wine and dined there. During Prohibition, as the tale goes, Al Capone along with a variety of Chicago politicians used the Inn as a favorite drinking and gambling spot.

Lakeside, 1912.

Harbert, 1930's

Harbert

The emergence of the railroad secured the founding of Harbert. John Glavin, an engineer on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, noted the area's barren land on one of his runs between Chicago and Detroit. Glavin investigated and found the land affordable. He now had a new career. While Glavin founded the community in the 1850s, a Chicago industrialist who was instrumental in building the town's train depot, aced out Glavin when it came to naming the village.

Agriculture anchored the Harbert economy, orchards and vineyards were established. All the town's products were gathered at acre parcel in Harbert, which they named Hazelhurst Camp. This camp is still very active today; dedicated to conservation and walking.

Sawyer

The area now named Sawyer was originally purchased in 1836 from the United States government by John Johnson. In 1873 it was called Troy Station with the main street going west/southwest to Lake Michigan ending at Greenbush Pier.

An Ohio judge, Silas Sawyer, grew weary of the courtroom and decided he would join the westward migration in the mid-1800s. Recognizing the potential of timber development here, he the Harbert depot, bound for transport to Chicago and Detroit.

The community's most famous visitor and resident was Carl Sandburg who wrote much of his Pulitzer Prize-winning account of Abraham Lincoln at his Harbert home. The Sandburgs lived in Harbert for 15 years.

The Prairie Club held their first series of walks in 1908 under the auspices of the Playground Association of Chicago. The walking group and 330 others took their first walk in 1908 to the Indiana Dunes. They established camps on the lakefront and on February 1, 1930 purchased a 60-bought 100 acres in 1862 and, after clearing half of his land, planted it with fruit trees and built his own wood mill. He continued logging the area and hauled his timber on a horse-driven railroad to Fuller Pier, now the site of Warren Dunes State Park. He gained such great prominence that by 1887 the community had been renamed Sawyer Station.

The town grew as an agricultural center and eventually established an open air market from which buyers transported their purchases by train and truck to population centers. In 1885 Sawyer's main street was named Lake Street. The Post Office/General Store built by Burwell Hinchmen, Sawyer's Postmaster (1885-1890 and 1893-1897, became what is now known as the 5888 Building. An Englishman, David Knight, who had come to the area in the 1870s, worked in the store selling general merchandise. Appointed as Sawyer's Postmaster in 1891 he was one of the first entrepreneurs to take advantage of the region's mild growing climate; and by 1924 he had established a thriving nursery business which shipped nursery stock across the country.

Eventually Silas Sawyer's Sawmill and Cabinet Shop was replaced by W.J. Zeiger's hardware store which featured lumber, tile and building materials. Zeiger Lumber and Coal Company developed into the leading supplier and builder of new homes throughout the region. In 1913 Zeiger charged 15 cents for 15 pounds of plaster, 12 cents for four pounds of #20 nails, and $1.25 for a roll of roofing. Today the newly revived hardware and lumber store stands as a testament to the roots of the community.

John Flynn, a high profile Chicago union leader, built the Flynn Palm Tea Room and Soda Grill in the early 1920's. He expanded the building in 1929 to create the Flynn Theater annex, which showcased live stage productions and current Hollywood movies. The Flynn Building became Sawyer's most famous and it is said that although John Flynn was viewed as an upstanding member of the community, he never traveled without his two body guards.

Founded by Chicago-area Swedish Baptist and Covenant Churches the area continues to be the home of several private beachfront communities. Bethany Beach community was founded in 1905 and Shorewood Hills was established in 1928. Sawyer is also home to the well-known Tower Hill Camp, founded in the 1920's by the Congregational Church. The United Church of Christ was built in the late 1880's and still stands today in downtown Sawyer.

Even though Sawyer is one of the few Harbor Country communities without public beach access, the Warren Dunes State Park runs along its northern border. The 1,950 acre park provides three miles of sandy shoreline, six miles of hiking trails, and a dune formation that stands over 150 feet above water level. It attracts over 1.5 million visitors annually and is open year round.

Three Oaks

Imagine this: the President of the United States makes his way to a tiny Michigan village to dedicate a war memorial. He's greeted by a fellow who has turned turkey feathers into a worldwide industry and declared "Three Oaks Against the World."

Edward Warren shook the hand of President McKinley in 1899 at the Three Oaks train station and heard him eloquently dedicate the Dewey Cannon Monument to the good people of Three Oaks and their contribution to the Spanish-American War. The campaign Warren waged against every other city and village in the nation to raise the most per capita for the war effort and its veterans was yet another victory for a most incredible businessman and benefactor.

Three Oaks was linked to the rest of our current Harbor Country communities by the timber and bricks shipped to Chicago and other Great Lakes cities, and, of course, there was the railroad. The crews aboard the Central Michigan Railroad passing through the village recognized three oak trees which appeared to be one because of their mass and proximity. Everyone on board recognized the three oaks, as did the local residents and so the village was named.

Let's pick up the course of Mr. Warren. One day he noticed a store clerk fix a broken whale bone corset stay with a turkey feather quill. An industry was born at that moment. Turkey feather quills became garment stays and buggy whips. The Three Oaks economy was booming and the Warren Featherbone Factory still stands proudly in the center of town.

The biggest events in Harbor Country occur in Three Oaks every year. The "Oakers" claim they have the biggest Flag Day Parade in the United States, certainly no one will dispute that it's one great party. The biggest event is the Apple Cider Century bike ride which draws some 7,000 riders from across the country. No buggy whips required.

New Buffalo This vibrant town is a center of activity with its public beach, lake and riverside parks, boat launch and marinas. The streets are lined with specialty stores and unique eateries. Its lakefront park is a perfect place to watch the sailboats or a sunset. New Buffalo is home to the New Buffalo Railroad Museum, an Amtrak stop and a Michigan Welcome Center, the busiest in the state.

Michiana Known for its quaint log cabins, many of them dating back to the 1920s, this charming community is home to about 200 homeowners. Michiana was one of the last resort areas in the region to be developed because of its dense woods and undisturbed natural wetlands. The village is located on the shores of Lake Michigan and on the Indiana/Michigan state border, hence the name Michiana was given in 1945.

Grand Beach Originally a community of Sears and Roebuck cottages, this exclusive resort village on Lake Michigan is home to less than 150 residents. Stately white gates have welcomed visitors to Grand Beach since the early 1900's and the community's public golf course dates to 1911. Among the most famous visitors to Grand Beach are author Father Andrew Greeley and the Mayors Daley of Chicago who have maintained vacation homes in the village for decades.

Union Pier Named from one of the shipping piers used to transport timber to Chicago, the area's major industry in the 1870s, this popular resort town has boomed in the recent years. The countryside surrounding this quaint but growing lakeshore community is dotted with unique antique shops, galleries and grand old resorts that have been restored to their former glory.

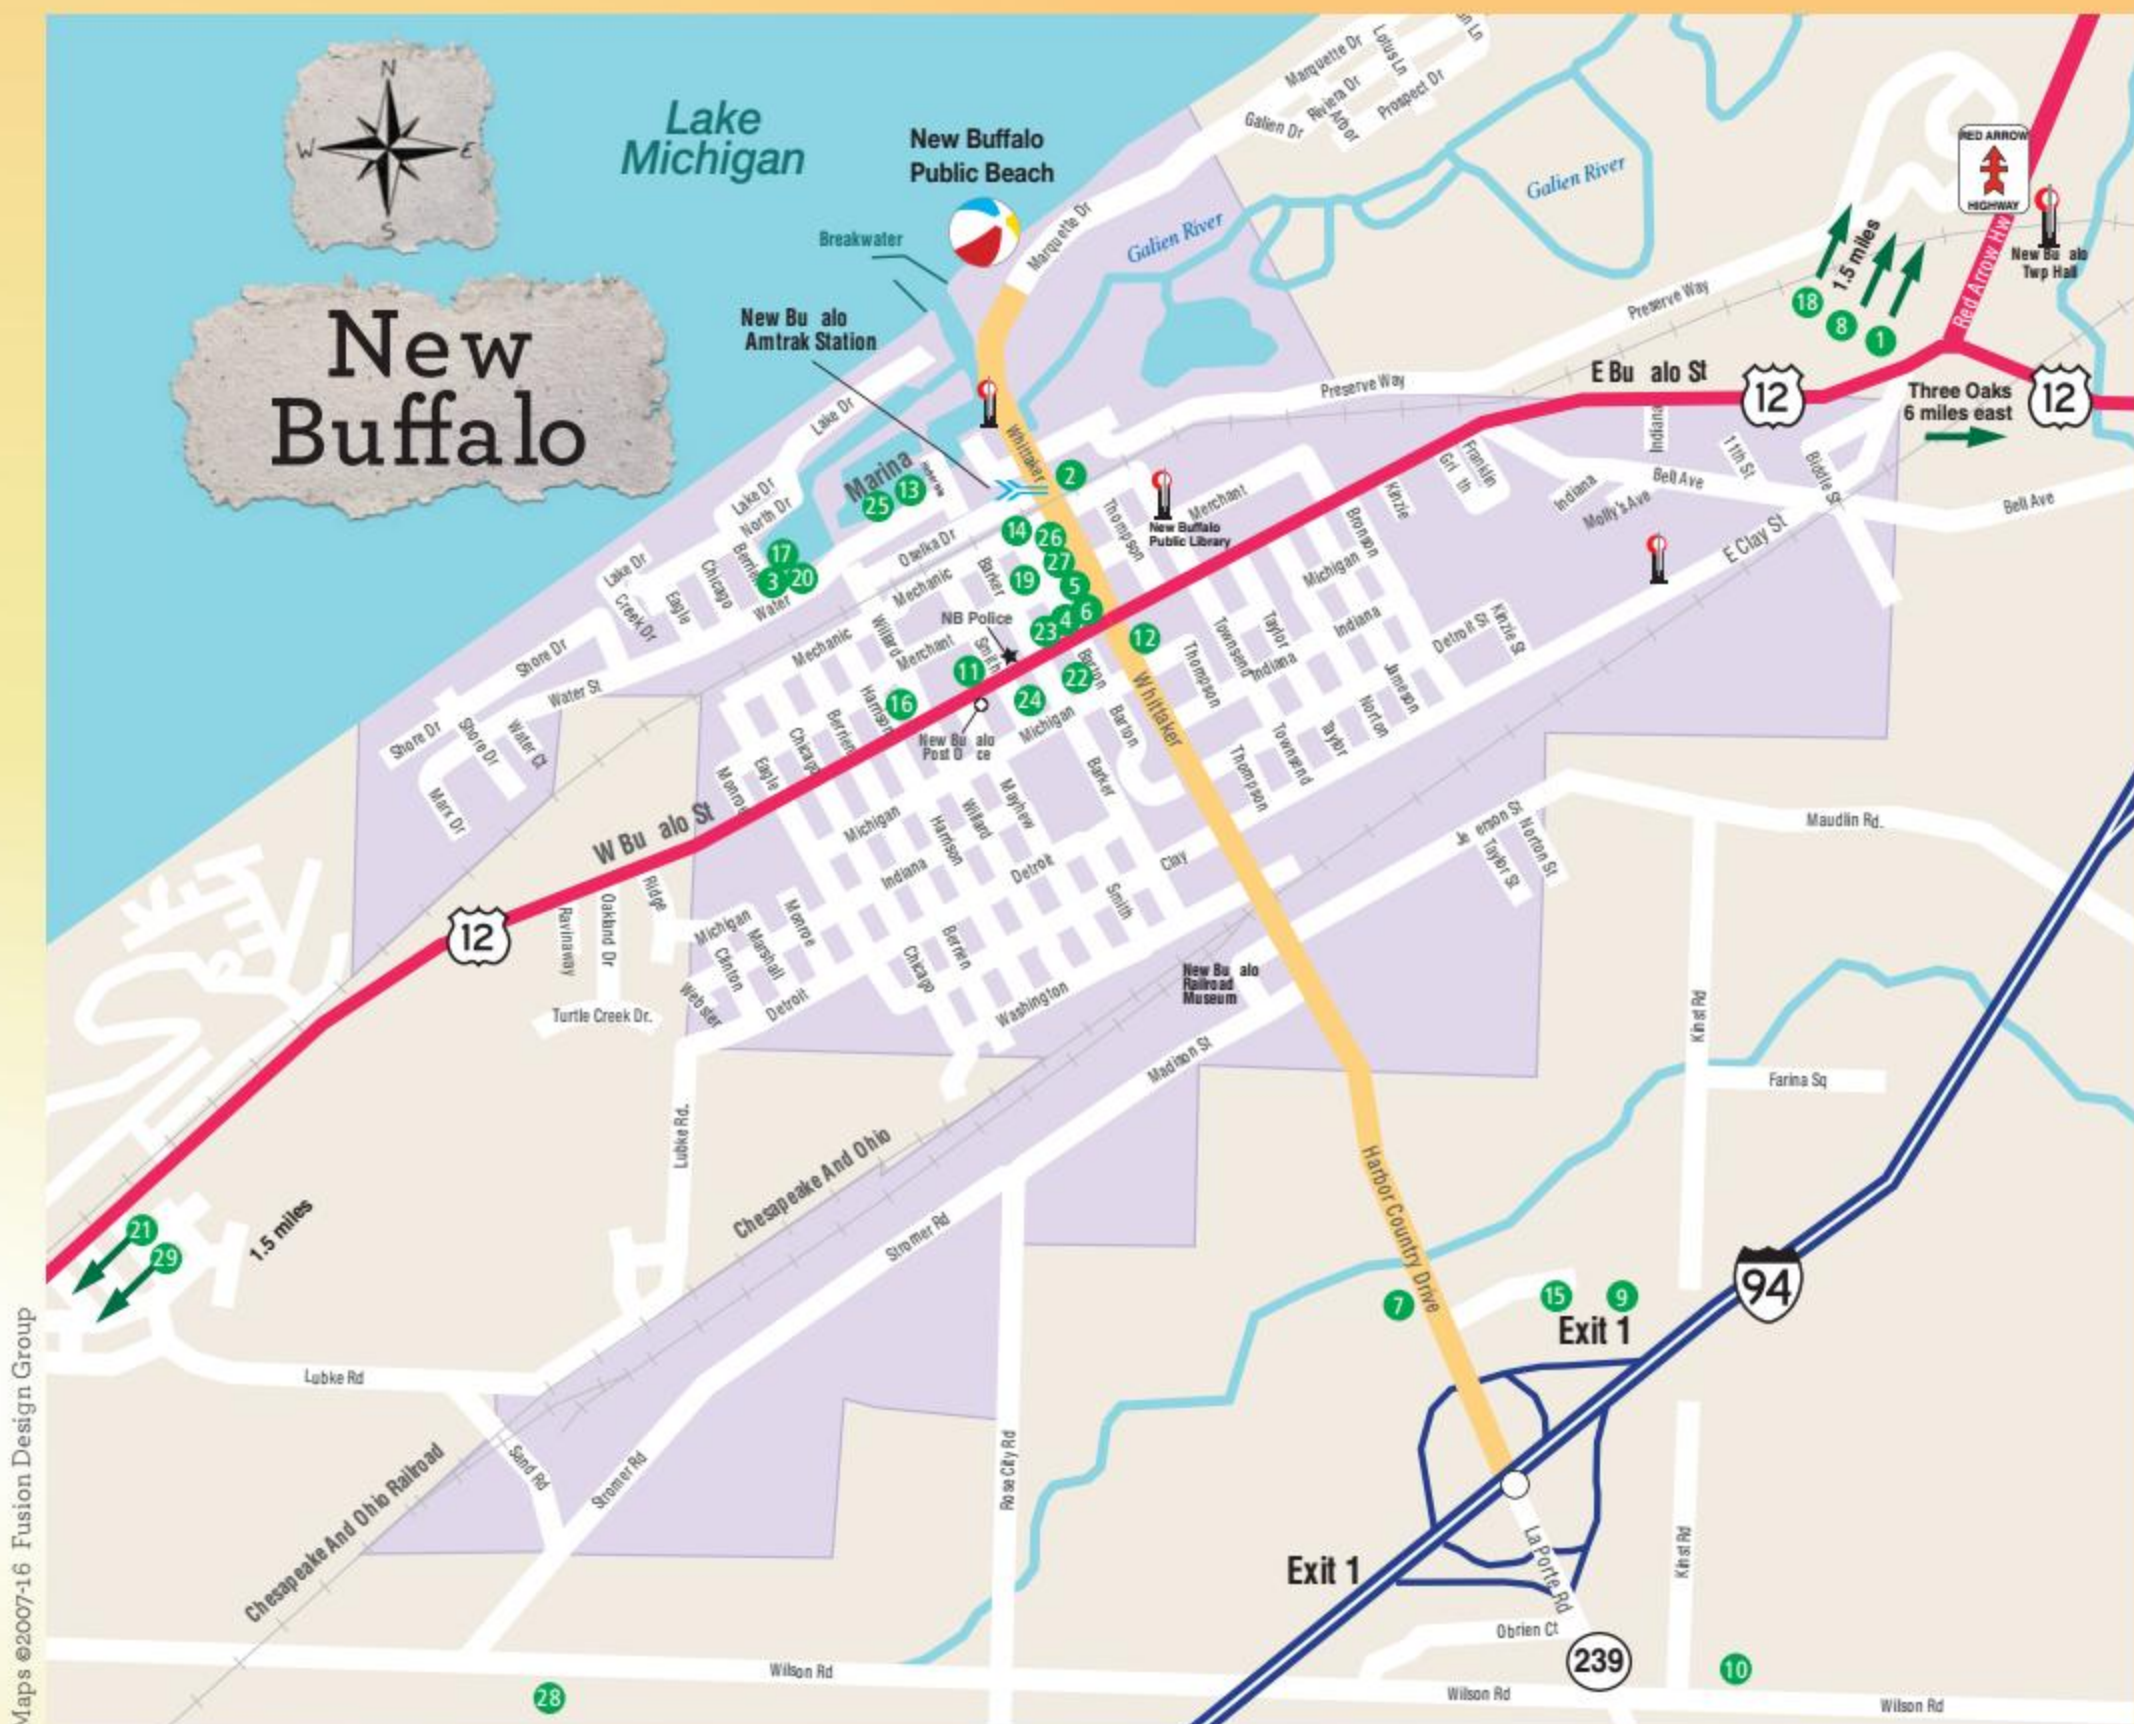

Lakeside Settled in 1854 with the Wilkinson sawmill, trading post, and pier, the town became one of the area's earliest summer retreats. Red Arrow Highway and its crossroads are home to many antique shops, galleries and specialty stores. An active homeowners' association sponsors several events during the year and fosters a strong sense of community.

Harbert Home to a Swedish Bakery that speaks to the Scandinavian founders of this thriving little resort community that was created after the turn of the century. The community's most famous visitor and resident was Carl Sandburg. Much of Sandburg's Pulitzer Prize winning account of Abraham Lincoln was written at his Harbert home, where he and his wife lived for 15 years. Today, you'll encounter out of the ordinary art galleries, antique shops, stores, and charming dining opportunities.

Sawyer The site of Warren Dunes, which is one of the state's largest parks and the most popular with several hundred acres of dunelands, campgrounds and beaches. Sawyer also provides a large travel center just off Interstate 94 which offers weary travelers a safe haven, fuel, food and travel aids. The surrounding area is graced with country vineyards, many antique stores, curio shops and fruit stands.

Three Oaks Named for massive oaks that stood near a town rail crossing, the town has become quite a cultural center with its fine arts movie theatre, a live performance theatre that draws much of its talent from Chicago and several artists' studios and galleries. In addition, the downtown area, with its "turn of the century" buildings, features niche retail, specialty and dining options as well as several parks and museums.
